THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN

A WEEKLY JOURNAL
OF
LOCAL NEWS AND HOME READING.

Entered at the Post Office at Bloomfield as second class matter.

Office: Over the Post Office.

OFFICE HOURS: From 7:30 to 9 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Special Notice.

During the summer, the office of the CITIZEN will be open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. Contributions should be sent to the office not later than Thursday evening.

The author's name must accompany all communications or contributions to the CITIZEN (which will be published or not as desired). All others will be rejected.

ABOUT TOWN.

—The exodus to Coney Island and other day resorts during the hot days has been very large.

—Mr. Peter Romig and his daughter, Mrs. Groheut, are spending the week at Columbia, Pa.

—Frank Earl accidentally shot himself in the leg last Sunday evening, while loading a pistol, making a painful wound, although not serious.

—Miss Shibley's Drawing and Painting Class re-opens on Sept. 23d. Parties desiring instruction in these branches would do well to confer with her.

—The Bloomfield Tennis Club will begin today, on their grounds, a series of match games, single and double, with a number of Montclair players.

—The Republican Executive Committee held their regular weekly meeting last Tuesday evening, and completed their arrangements for uniforming the clubs.

—The Commissioners of Appeals, in cases of taxation, will meet in the Tax Office, Dodd's Building, at 10 o'clock, a. m., Tuesday, September 23d.

—The payment of taxes is now in order. A reduction of two per cent, may be secured by making payment before the first of October.

—Mrs. Lewis S. Morris is visiting her son at Asheville, North Carolina, where he is settled with his family. She is expected home within a few days.

—Mr. R. W. Gardiner and family have returned from the seashore, and are now trying the virtues of the pure air of Sharon Springs.

—There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Bloomfield Republican Club, in Upper Library Hall, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, 1884, at 8 o'clock.

—Mrs. C. Gilmore and Miss Carrie L. Gilmore, of Brooklyn, have been spending some days in Bloomfield, the guests of Mrs. M. L. Ellinwood.

—Rev. Fred'k Oxnard, who so acceptably occupied the pulpit last Sabbath, will preach morning and evening in the First Presbyterian Church, next Sabbath.

—Mrs. Thomas Costigan died on Thursday afternoon, at her late residence near the Inclined Plane, after an illness of only a week. Her sickness was due to fever.

—While the Water Company were laying water pipes on Bloomfield avenue, a traveler asked a stalwart negro if he was an Italian. "No, sah! I am a Presbyterian," was the prompt reply.

—You can still get a glass of beer in Bloomfield. Judge McCarter thinks the present law is ridiculous, but that if applicants comply with the law the license should be granted.

—Some good work is being done on Clark street extension. The grading is being done by the Gallagher Estate. The Estate has lately sold a lot on the above street, corner of Hillside avenue, to Mr. Williams, who is erecting a house thereon.

—Mr. John F. Maxfield has a rival in the business of raising fancy stock. A gentleman on Franklin Hill has a cat with only a trifle of a tail, and they now are of the opinion that all the tailless cats in Essex County have come there to reside.

—The united membership of the Republican clubs of this place is 240, all of which will be uniformed by the Executive Committee in a few days. The Democrats also have 40, but are minus the 200. We wonder if the artist meant it as a joke when he gave Cleveland the black eye on their banner?

—A colored Blaine and Logan Club has been formed, with a membership of forty. The officers are as follows: President, Joseph Jackson; Vice-President, William Schuyler; Secretary, C. R. Anderson; Assistant, Joseph Berry; Captain, Watson Thornton; First Lieutenant, Charles James; Second Lieutenant, Silas Seales; Sergeant, David Manderville.

—Mrs. George W. Cook returned from Sparta, N. J., yesterday.

—Rev. G. W. Timlow, D. D., is now in New Hampshire, where he will spend several weeks.

—The friends of A. Edward Hagemann are working vigorously to place his name before the Assembly Convention as a candidate.

—The officers of the Pioneer Club Association are—President, H. C. Farrand; Vice-President, Thomas Monks; Secretary, Lewis Dowkins; Treasurer, Jas. C. Brown.

—The Hose Company have purchased a four-wheel carriage of Mr. Wunder, of Reading, Pa., which will be received with appropriate ceremonies in a few days.

—Mrs. Theodore Costigan died on Tuesday evening, after an illness of four days with what was considered as a mild fever. The intense heat of Tuesday undoubtedly hastened her death.

—Mr. Hutchings, who has been sick for some time with consumption, at the boarding house of Mrs. Lyon, died on Monday. The funeral services were held on Wednesday.

—Mr. John Hall is still suffering from a cancer on his right cheek. His physician expresses the belief that it is slowly reducing. We sincerely hope this is so. Mr. Hall has been suffering greatly for some time.

—Rev. D. R. Lowrie will preach in the Park M. E. Church on Sunday. Topic of the morning sermon: "Look not Behind." Evening sermon: "The Recent Crimes and Embezzlements in Business Life and their Cause."

—A friend recently informed us that the Prohibition party was fully alive, and would exhibit their strength next November. We are glad to hear that they are alive. We supposed they were dead, and undergoing final punishment with Dives, from the way they howl for water.

—Frank Madison, of Newark, a son of the late Wm. J. Madison, met with a serious accident a few days since while at play in that city. A toy pistol in the hands of a playmate exploded, the ball passing through the right cheek, just grazing the carotid artery. When the news first reached Bloomfield, it was in a confused state and to the effect that Frankie was dying. This story was, however, soon contradicted.

—Freeholder Cadmus is doing a large amount of work on the County bridges at the present time. Washington street bridge is being cleared of all sand and debris, also bridge at the junction of Prospect street and Glenwood avenue. Mr. Cadmus as a public officer is uniting in his efforts to serve the County faithfully. During the extreme hot weather he has kept at work every day.

—The Lehlbach Engineer Corps were using the upper floor of the Powers' Mill on Glenwood avenue, for drilling purposes every night, when they were suddenly stopped by a notice served on them through Smith E. Perry, on Tuesday, to the effect that they must abandon the use of the building. A little influence will do considerable to annoy such an object occasionally, but the real effect of such influence is more favorable than detrimental to the cause.

—Ralph L. Newton, who is well known to the greater portion of our townsmen through his residence here some time ago, has joined the long list of defaulters and embezzlers in New York city. While in Bloomfield, Mr. Newton enjoyed an excellent reputation, and was looked up to as a model young man. Seldom ever smoking, never drinking, and always found in good society. His fall is deeply regretted by his many former friends.

—Possibly an impression may prevail, from the advertisement in our columns of the Coleman Business College, 764 and 766 Broad street, Newark, that pupils enter only at stated periods. Such is not the fact, as the College is open all the year, and pupils may enter at any time. The attendance, we learn, is very large for this season of the year, and the indications are for an increase in numbers over last year, which was the best in the history of the school.

—The Newark Evening News celebrated its first anniversary on September first by issuing a supplement the size of the daily edition. The success which has attended the News in the past year is seldom experienced in so young a paper. With an edition of 3,000 on its appearance one year ago, it has now reached 10,400. Its daily circulation in Bloomfield and Watessing is about 300. The paper is independent in all matters. In the political question of the day it does not stand on the best ground; but, as the choicest swine will occasionally get a black tooth, this can be called the one defective point in the News.

—The colored church of the upper neighborhood held a fair and festival on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week. The usual feast of good things was provided, which the large audiences assembled upon each evening fully enjoyed. Many of the white residents contributed to the success of the entertainment by their presence and patronage. The highly esteemed cake-walk came off at a late hour on Friday night, the two highest prizes being awarded to Mr. Bowers and Miss Rosa Brady, for the highly artistic quality of their promenade. The receipts were satisfactory and will be devoted to the payment of church expenses.

—The miner's adage, that "luck is sure to change," came true at the base-ball meeting between the Mutuals, of Belleville and the Nameless, of this place. The game was played upon the grounds of the former club, and was decided at the close of the sixth innings, when the score stood 18 to 6 in favor of the Mutuals. The fine playing of the previous week had given the home club strong hopes of success, but the event proved otherwise.

—The opening of the Seminary. The seminary begins its year on September 17th and 18th. The entrance examination will be held on Wednesday, the 17th, at 3 p. m. The Opening Address will be delivered by Rev. George C. Seibert, Ph. D., D. D., on Thursday the 18th, at 5 o'clock. The lectures on the History of Bloomfield will begin either during the last week of September or the first week of October.

—Normal Class. All Sunday-school workers will be glad to learn that the Normal Class will be resumed on the first Friday evening of October at the Sunday-school room of the First Presbyterian Church, with Rev. W. H. Brodhead as teacher. The meetings heretofore have been held on Wednesday evening, which was the only night Mr. Brodhead could give, but he has now made other arrangements so that he can come on Friday, which change will suit the majority of those who attend.

—Lawn Tennis. A Tennis Tournament will be begun on Saturday, Sept. 13th, at 3 p. m., on the Tennis Ground, open to all players from Bloomfield and Montclair. About twenty-five gentlemen have entered from both towns, and it is hoped that it will be made very interesting. It is possible that at that time and place, the final games in the Montclair Tournament, between Messrs. Bovee and Boyd in the singles, and Wilson and Bovee of one side and Gwinne and Bell of the other, in the doubles, will be played off. Players are requested to attend promptly.

—Death by Heat. Charles Littlel, a young man employed as sawyer at Peloubet & Company's Organ factory was overcome by the heat on Tuesday morning while at his work, and died before night. He was first taken with cramps (a very common symptom) at ten o'clock. Doctors White and Bailey were called and relieved the suffering man with morphine. He slept until noon, when he awoke and expressed a desire to work the remainder of the day. He again slept and at 4:30 was taken with convulsions which lasted for half an hour, when he was relieved by kyer. The body was taken in charge by Mr. Kaylor and afterwards removed to his home in Newark.

—Lehlbach Engineer Corps. At a meeting of the Engineer Corps held for the purpose of electing officers of the club and selecting a name, the following named gentlemen were elected: Theodore Cadmus, Captain; Richard Handy, First Lieutenant; Horace Dodd, Jr., Orderly Sergeant; F. Howell Johnson, Secretary; and John Sanderson, Treasurer. The remaining officers will be chosen at a future meeting. The committee who were appointed to wait on Mr. G. Lee Stout, and request permission to name the club after him, reported that that gentleman received the committee and cordially thanked them for the honor and recognition tendered him but requested that his name be not used. The report was received and a motion made that the name of the club be made in honor of the Congressional nominee from this district. This was adopted. After the nomination of Hon. Herman Lehlbach, on Wednesday, the following telegram was sent to him:

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Sept. 10, 1884.
Hon. Herman Lehlbach, Newark, N. J.:
Accept congratulations of Lehlbach Engineer Corps on your nomination. Have just named club in honor of it. Now for a glorious victory.
THEODORE CADMUS, Captain.

—Parade of Bloomfield Hose Co. The above company are to receive their new carriage, which will probably be on Saturday, September 20th in the evening. It is proposed to have a grand torch-light parade in which all the neighboring companies will take part, from Montclair, East Orange, Watessing and all the companies now organized in town, making about five hundred men in line and in full uniform. It will probably be the largest parade Bloomfield has ever had. A reviewing stand will be erected at the Centre for the accommodation of guests, and it is proposed to have addresses delivered by some good speakers on the progress of Bloomfield. This affair will have no political significance whatever and no banners or devices of any description will be carried. The line of march will probably be up Washington avenue to the Ridgewood avenue, Park avenue to Belleville avenue, through Elm to Beach street, round the Park to the Centre, and after the address of welcome and inspection of new carriage be dismissed. It is requested that friends along the line of march will salute with fire works and all our citizens unite to make this affair a success, as those having this matter in charge will endeavor to make it worthy of Bloomfield. Should it storm the affair will be postponed.

—S. S. Teachers' Convention. By invitation of the Bloomfield S. S. Teachers' Association the annual meeting of the Sunday-school workers of our county will be held here on Wednesday, October 8th. This convention will call together from three to four hundred delegates, many of whom are prominent in Sunday-school work. The First Presbyterian Church has been secured for holding the convention, and arrangements are being made for the entertainment of delegates who will have to be provided with dinner and supper.

—About a Cannon. To the Citizens: Lying at the south end of the green is an old cannon. I don't know its history, but assume that it has one, and that it is in some way identified with the early (perhaps Revolutionary) history of Bloomfield. Would it not be well to ascertain this and have it properly mounted and put up on the green with an appropriate inscription, as a relic? The object of this is to elicit the necessary information.

—Reception at Park M. E. Church. Notwithstanding the monotonous sameness of the warm wave, a large number of members of the Methodist Church gathered on Monday evening to welcome their pastor, Rev. D. R. Lowrie and family home from their retreat on Mount Tabor. The gathering had a double interest from the fact that the day was the 50th anniversary of the pastor's birthday. For some few days a number of the ladies had been arranging for the occasion what proved to be a perfect surprise to him. The Young Peoples Association of the church led off with a programme of music, etc., when Mr. R. B. Corby was called to the front and presented the following original poem which he dedicated to the pastor:

We meet together, friends, to-night,
To spend a pleasant hour,
To welcome home our pastor dear,
Blessed with grace and power.
To greet you, Brother Lowrie,
And thank God it is so;
And bless the day, when you were born
Just fifty years ago.

A half a century; how long
And yet how soon 'tis past!
Our days are gliding swiftly by,
Time soon will bring the last.
In early manhood, when you heard
The Spirit's gentle voice,
Your heart responded to the call,
And made a blessed choice.

When called to preach the gospel
And tell the truth abroad,
That Jesus died for sinners,
And saved from Adam's fall,
You were by doubts and fears assailed
But took God at his word;
And came off more than conqueror
By trusting in the Lord.

Success hath crowned your labors,
Sinners have heard your call;
Hundreds have been converted,
Time soon will bring the last.
In early manhood, when you heard
The Spirit's gentle voice,
Your heart responded to the call,
And made a blessed choice.

Go tell the "Old, old story,"
Yes, tell it o'er and o'er,
So full and free and precious,
Yea, teach for evermore.
Then when your work is ended
A crown of jewels bright
Will shine upon your forehead,
In the glorious realm of light.

You will hear the Father's welcome,
Extended through the Son,
Your labors are completed,
You are welcome, child, come home.
And when we cross the river
As we shall do one by one
We'll give to God the glory,
Through his beloved Son.

God bless you, Brother Lowrie,
Where'er your lot is cast,
Our prayers for your prosperity
Shall go with you to the last.
We are on our way to Zion,
To reach our Father's throne
And we'll have a glorious meeting
When we all arrive at home.

Suffice it to say that the author felt the grandeur of the occasion as he reviewed the pastor's life and work and the emotions that were aroused were shared by every one.

Mr. A. Baker was next called on and in a few well chosen remarks tendered as a slight token of the esteem and affection of his people a box containing $50 in gold coin.

A number of personal friends of Mr. Lowrie's from Hoboken had also come on to show their esteem and regard, on this same occasion, and also presented a very handsome gentlemen's travelling companion, neatly encased in alligator leather.

Then another greatly esteemed friend the venerable David Campbell, Esq., of Newark, arose, saying he claimed relationship to Mr. Lowrie not only by reason of fellowship in church work, engaged in serving the same Lord and master, but because he had held allegiance to the same glorious old Scotia, on whose soil they both were ushered into being. It not being quite suitable at this time of the year to add a turkey to this festive occasion he did the next best available act, and let loose on the wings of the wind a beautiful golden eagle as his contribution to the event and day we celebrated.

So successfully had the entire celebration been conceived and carried out by the ladies, led on by Mrs. Hubbell, that it was a complete surprise to its recipient.

Mr. Lowrie responded very feelingly and happily greeting all friends, both of present and former charges with a cordial Christian salutation, pledging all to continued and renewed efforts for the consummation of the great work of life.

After a bountiful collation, attended with unusual good fellowship and kind greetings, the company separated at an early hour well pleased and repaid for every effort.
